

This photo was taken by an Astro photographer Dave Delap who has generously offered to share it with EKLC. Dave says " I searched for some time to find an interesting rural church that faces south in order to capture the star trails that appear to revolve around the North Star because of the earth's rotation. Both of your church buildings are beautiful, but I was really smitten with your older building. Between 1:15 and 3:50 am last Thursday I took 312 photos and then combined them in a star stacking program to reveal the star trails that occurred over this 2 hour and 35 minute period." And then adds: "Thank you for maintaining such an impressive older church building." This is truly beautiful, Dave, showing God's creation at work. Thank you!
